Re: Public Records Request PR-2020-00621 (COMPLETE)

Dear Dr. Jones-Engel:

This email is provided in response to your public records request for September 3, 2020, in which you requested:

“For the period from January 1, 2017 to the present, please provide a single document that indicates, for each month, the name of each of the University of Washington’s Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee members, their position title and Public Health Service (PHS) Policy Membership Role.”

The records responsive to your request are attached to this email as provided by the Public Records Act of Washington State. This concludes the University's response to your public records request. Please contact our office if you have any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Jade McNallan

Kelly,

We do not have a responsive document as requested. The requestor asks for “a single document that indicates, for each month, the name of each of the University of Washington’s Institutional Care and Use Committee members, their position title and Public Health Service (PHS) Policy Membership Role.” The document that was attached with the request as an example is treated as a living document by OAW and is edited as membership of the Committee changes over time. We do not have archival versions of this document.

I have attached the current version as that is the only responsive document that we possess.

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks.

Hi Kim & Bob,

HSA has received a new public records requests from requestor Lisa Jones-Engel. The request has a response due date of September 21, 2020. The request is attached here and additional information is embedded below in the message forwarded from Compliance Analyst Jade McNallan. Please read the request in it’s entirely and identify if you have responsive records. If you believe there are others that may also have responsive records pertaining to this request, please let me know.

Please let me know if you believe you have records that are responsive and if you have any questions or need anything clarified in order to respond to this request.

Regards,

UW00015116

Due to the current health emergency you may require additional time to complete your response to this public records request. If additional time is needed to compile records, please contact our office as soon as possible at pubrec@uw.edu with your estimated response date. Unless we hear from you, you should respond to this request as outlined below:

*****Immediate attention required: This is a time-sensitive request for assistance from the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings. Please respond by September 21, 2020.*****

Dear Dave:

Attached to this email is a new Public Records request. You are being asked to help the University respond promptly to this request by taking the following steps:

1. Immediately identify all locations, within your area of responsibility, for any record that may be responsive to this request, including any records held by others within your school, college, unit, division or department. Below is a list of factors that must be considered when identifying records responsive to this request.
2. Immediately preserve potentially responsive records from destruction or alteration.
3. After you collect the responsive records, send electronic or hard copies of them to the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings, University of Washington, Box 354997. It is critical that the copies you send are single-sided and unstapled and that you include a copy of this letter with your submission.
4. Please call the staff at the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings at 543-9180 with any questions or concerns you may have about this request.

UW00015117

If you are aware of additional faculty, staff, departments, or entities which may have records related to this request, please notify this office as soon as possible.

Thank you for your assistance in helping the University respond to the attached public records request in a timely and efficient manner.

Sincerely,

Jade McNallan

Responding to Requests for Public Records

- Any record prepared, owned, used or retained by the University, and that concerns University business, is considered a public record and must be provided to the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings.
- The definition of a "record" is very broad and includes correspondence, hand-written notes, forms, electronic records (such as email and databases), research records, visual records such as pictures, cd(s) or videos, audio records etc.
- You may not destroy or alter a requested record. This includes records that exist at the time a public records request is received by the University even though it may have passed its legal records retention period or is required to be destroyed by a contract.
- The University is legally required to identify all responsive records, even those it might choose to withhold from disclosure under one of the Public Records Act permissible exemptions. Thus, you must collect and send all records to the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings, even those you consider confidential or personal, those an outside party considers confidential (such as a vendor or licensee) or personal, or those you consider covered by the attorney-client privilege. The University might not release such records if they fall within one of the exemptions to the Public Records Act, but it must provide the requestor an inventory that identifies all records it chooses to exempt.
- If the request seeks a potentially large volume of records, you should work closely with the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings to determine a prompt timeframe for collection of records. The Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings may explore with the requestor clarifying, narrowing, or prioritizing the request. You should not contact the requestor directly.

UW00015118

- Certain records may be found in more than one UW location. You should not assume that someone else is going to provide records that you also have in your control.
- The consequences of not responding promptly or completely to a request are very serious. The University could be sued and could face costly fines and legal costs for not complying fully with the requirements of the public records law.

Kelly,

We do not have a responsive document as requested. The requestor asks for "a single document that indicates, for each month, the name of each of the University of Washington's Institutional Care and Use Committee members, their position title and Public Health Service (PHS) Policy Membership Role." The document that was attached with the request as an example is treated as a living document by OAW and is edited as membership of the Committee changes over time. We do not have archival versions of this document.

I have attached the current version as that is the only responsive document that we possess.

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks.

Dear Dave:

Attached to this email is a new Public Records request. You are being asked to help the University respond promptly to this request by taking the following steps:

UW00015145

1. Immediately identify all locations, within your area of responsibility, for any record that may be responsive to this request, including any records held by others within your school, college, unit, division or department. Below is a list of factors that must be considered when identifying records responsive to this request.

2. Immediately preserve potentially responsive records from destruction or alteration.

3. After you collect the responsive records, send electronic or hard copies of them to the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings, University of Washington, Box 354997. It is critical that the copies you send are single-sided and unstapled and that you include a copy of this letter with your submission.

4. Please call the staff at the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings at 543-9180 with any questions or concerns you may have about this request.

If you are aware of additional faculty, staff, departments, or entities which may have records related to this request, please notify this office as soon as possible.

Thank you for your assistance in helping the University respond to the attached public records request in a timely and efficient manner.

Sincerely,

Jade McNallan

Responding to Requests for Public Records

- Any record prepared, owned, used or retained by the University, and that concerns University business, is considered a public record and must be provided to the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings.
- The definition of a "record" is very broad and includes correspondence, hand-written notes, forms, electronic records (such as email and databases), research records, visual records such as pictures, cd(s) or videos, audio records etc.
- You may not destroy or alter a requested record. This includes records that exist at the time a public records request is received by the University even though it may have passed its legal records retention period or is required to be destroyed by a contract.

UW00015146

- The University is legally required to identify all responsive records, even those it might choose to withhold from disclosure under one of the Public Records Act permissible exemptions. Thus, you must collect and send all records to the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings, even those you consider confidential or personal, those an outside party considers confidential (such as a vendor or licensee) or personal, or those you consider covered by the attorney-client privilege. The University might not release such records if they fall within one of the exemptions to the Public Records Act, but it must provide the requestor an inventory that identifies all records it chooses to exempt.
- If the request seeks a potentially large volume of records, you should work closely with the Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings to determine a prompt timeframe for collection of records. The Office of Public Records and Open Public Meetings may explore with the requestor clarifying, narrowing, or prioritizing the request. You should not contact the requestor directly.
- Certain records may be found in more than one UW location. You should not assume that someone else is going to provide records that you also have in your control.
- The consequences of not responding promptly or completely to a request are very serious. The University could be sued and could face costly fines and legal costs for not complying fully with the requirements of the public records law.
